

MOVERS & SHAKERS

Continued from page 17

The Courier's Senior Correspondent Rita Christopher enjoys the opportunity to interview Julie Andrews.

Photo by John Vanacore/The Courier

Joe Petrowski. Photo courtesy of Joe Petrowski

October

The Courier's Rita Christopher sits down for a one-on-one interview with the legendary Julie Andrews. Andrews is in the area preparing to direct The Great American Mousical, an original musical written by her and her daughter, Emma Walton Hamilton, at the Goodspeed's Norma Terris Theatre.

November

Guilford native Joe Petrowski announces he won't be mounting his awe-inspiring annual holiday light display at his parents' house this year. Community disappointment is softened by the news that Petrowski has accepted a job as a cast member "for the most magical company in the world, in Walt Disney World."

December

Creative Arts Workshop (CAW) and Guilford Art Center (GAC) present their respective holiday craft fairs, which introduce area shoppers and browsers to fine artists and artisans from across the country. This year, CAW celebrates its 44th year